

Behavioral Health Basics for the Dental Office

A training for dental staff to understand the connection between behavioral and oral health and their role in referring patients.

83% - Percent of trainees that reported an increase in confidence having conversations with their patients

100% - Percent of trainees recommend this training to others

Details: Virtual training spread over 2 lunch hours, led by behavioral health professional (MSW)

Requirements: A pre-training meeting is required to identify appropriate referral sources and review current/recommended intake screening questions

Cost: Free for the dental office, sponsored by Oral Health Unit, CDPHE

Objective: After the training, dental teams will be comfortable having basic conversations around behavioral health, utilize tools such as motivational interviewing, and know where/how to make a referral should it be required
